Re: Junior Full-Stack Web Developer (Job Code 1009)

Dear Hiring Manager,

I am writing to apply for the Junior Full-Stack Web Developer position as advertised on Indeed (job Code 1009). I believe that my three years of experience in George Brown College computer programming program makes me an ideal candidate for this position.

As a soon-to-be graduate in Computer Programming Analysis at George Brown College, I gained strong hands-on web development experience with .NET Framework. I have actively participated in many team projects dealing with designing and implementing web application with MVC framework using C#. I can apply these same skills to work on the Front-end and Back-end components for the ongoing projects at your company. My ability to prioritize and to finish projects within tight deadlines make me a perfect candidate for your company. If I were to work as a Full stack Web developer, I would enjoy expanding my skills further as I implement object-oriented development practices to create user friendly web applications as per your company needs.

I believe my profile to be a perfect match for the criteria of the job and can assure you that my career objectives correspond well with this position. Please find my resume attached. I look very much forward to an interview opportunity; at which time I will be able to provide more information about myself and further expand on my strong interest in the position. If you would like to get in touch to discuss my application and to arrange an interview via 647-819-186 or yoonho@georgebrown.ca.

Thank you very much in advance for your consideration.

Sincerely,

Yoonho Hwang
